

Letter To Washington State House And Senate Leaders about HB 1727 Which Extends Marriage Benefits To Homosexuals

Dear Legislator,

Homosexual behavior is cause of one of modern society's two largest social costs. (HIV/AIDS, STD's etc.). The other largest is heterosexual immorality. (Single mom welfare.)

I spent two years researching science for the causes, consequences and therapy results for homosexuals. I discovered:

- (1) It is emphatically NOT related to genetic causes. It is behavioral and primarily the result of several categories of father failure (physical or emotional absence).
- (2) It reduces life expectancy (for both men and women) and increases public costs despite higher than average education levels and incomes.
- (3) About 1/3 of the gay community is responsive to secular methods of therapy (70% of those who desire to change their behavior can achieve this for at least a 5 year observation period.)
- (4) Another 1/3 respond to "religious" or faith-based therapy. Another 1/3 do not desire nor respond to therapy. (Complete report available upon request.)

Hence, this 'addiction' is about as responsive to therapy as drug addiction and more responsive than nicotine addiction.

In this highly secular society it is easy to forget that God plays an active role in our affairs. You, as a legislator bear heavy responsibility to find and administer truth for those you represent. This is not merely a political question. Civilizations are destroyed that have embraced the homosexual lifestyle.

There is blessing for those who serve truth, and judgment for failure. I urge you to not treat homosexual relationships as similar to marriage between one man and one woman and to vote against HB 1727. Thank you.

Respectfully, Karl Duff

Here is the response that Karl Duff received from State Representative Geoff Simpson of the 47th Legislative District to a request that he oppose H.B. 1727 (homosexual marriage equivalence bill.):

I find your various assertions to be offensive. If you'd like to share this drivel with someone else, feel free - you may find someone stupid enough to believe it. I will pray that your bigotry, judgementalism and hatred for others does not land you in the depths of hell.

Geoff

Note from Pastor Kevin Lea: Some are shocked that Geoff Simpson (an elected representative) would respond to a Washington resident with such vitriol. Mr. Duff has a Doctorate in Mechanical Engineering from M.I.T. and is a respected researcher in our area. His letter communicated facts associated with the homosexual lifestyle and agenda. Representative Simpson responded with emotional name-calling instead of attempting to refute a single point of Mr. Duff's letter; possibly because he couldn't.

A Google search on Geoff Simpson will reveal much more about the character (lack thereof) of this representative. Try the following hit as just one example:

Geoff Simpson and His Sock Puppets

Democratic state legislator Geoff Simpson is fighting against Republican Mark Hargrove for election in the 47th District.

Democrats recently slimed Hargrove, falsely implying he was not good on combatting sex offenders just because a sex offender contributed to his campaign.

There have been three people online coming out in support of Simpson on these matters, though. A couple of posts from someone named "ReadIt&Weep," and some more from "Just Wonderin'," and even one from someone named "Covington Republican."

"ReadIt&Weep" entered his email address as "molester@markhargrove.org." Charming. "Just Wonderin'" entered his address as "lies@pudgeisaliar.com." Both of them directly supported the claims made by the Democrats against Hargrove.

"Covington Republican" says Hargrove "seems like a real dunderhead. Nothing he said made much sense," and that "I won't vote for Simpson but I damn sure won't vote for Hargrove either."

What do all three of these posters have in common, other than attacking Hargrove?

They happen to share an IP address -- 71.231.253.145, a Comcast address -- that replied on Friday to an email sent to geoff.simpson@comcast.net (the same address listed by the House Democrats for his campaign).

Oops.

There is no mistaking it: these characters above are all Geoff Simpson, or someone very close to him in his campaign.

(The fourth post by "Just Wonderin'" was sent via an anonymizer ... sorry, Geoff, you're too late to hide your address, you've already been caught. The first was from 18.246.1.160, which resolves to an MIT student from Vashon, Tyler Williams. I have no idea what connection he has to Simpson.)

I don't really mind too much that Simpson is calling me a liar. I've been called worse.

I also couldn't care much less about people anonymously supporting the candidates of their choice ... even if it is themselves. Although, I would hope that public officials could be more forthcoming, even during campaigns.

But it's pretty low to invent an email address called "molester@markhargrove.org," apparently implying that Hargrove either IS a molester, or has molesters in his campaign. Maybe that wasn't the intent, but it sure seems like it.

However, there's no mistaking the intent, ladies and gentlemen, when your 47th District Representative, Geoff Simpson, is actually pretending to be a disaffected Republican voter who is against both Hargrove AND Simpson (and he has the gall to accuse me of lying!).

The stench of deception and desperation run deeply in that one, my friends.

Pastor Kevin's Final thoughts from scripture:

Proverbs 28:15 Like a roaring lion and a charging bear is a wicked ruler over poor people. 16 A ruler who lacks understanding is a great oppressor, but he who hates covetousness will prolong his days. (NKJ)

Prov 29:2 When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when a wicked man rules, the people groan.
