Note from Pastor Kevin Lea: Millions of Americans watched as Katy Perry glorified Satan in per performance during the 2014 Grammy Awards. Praise God Natalie Grant walked out of the Grammys. I wonder how many viewers at home turned off their TVs. I fear the answer is “very few.”*

Related, one of the top songs in America for several months running was titled “Demons.” Here is an excerpt of this song’s lyrics:

I want to hide the truth I want to shelter you, but with the beast inside there's nowhere we can hide. No matter what we breed we still are made of greed, this is my kingdom come, this is my kingdom come. When you feel my heat, look into my eyes, it's where my demons hide; it's where my demons hide. Don't get too close, it's dark inside, it's where my demons hide, it's where my demons hide.

The song writer is admitting that he/they is demon possessed. And Americans love it!?

Those who get their entertainment from the devil will get the devil’s reward. There are very bad days coming to America, as we exchange the blessings of God for the sulfur of hell.

Popular Christian gospel singer Natalie Grant walked out of the Grammys after witnessing a series of performances that even the mainstream entertainment media admitted were occult in nature.

Grant, who was nominated for two Grammys last night, tweeted her excitement upon arriving at the event but soon made it clear that she left early because what she witnessed conflicted with her Christian beliefs, stating, “We left the Grammy’s early. I’ve many thoughts, most of which are probably better left inside my head. But I’ll say this: I’ve never been more honored to sing about Jesus and for Jesus. And I’ve never been more sure of the path I’ve chosen.”

Although she remained coy on the exact circumstances, Grant was probably referring to Katy Perry, who was surrounded by demons as she danced around an upside down broomstick before being encircled by fire during a performance of her song “Dark Horse.” Perry wore clothing bearing an illuminated Knights Templar cross. Even E! Online tweeted that Perry’s performance resembled “actual witchcraft.”

Christian music website BreatheCast complained that Perry’s performance was “filled with satanic imagery and witchcraft.” Viewers also expressed their shock at the occult overtones of the show. Now all the little girls that look up to Katy Perry will worship Satan...
