

COVID Prevention & Treatment Resources

The below is from Dr. Christina Parks via her Telegram account, published 3 September 2021. Some of this information is duplicative, but some of these resources are new. As COVID continues to spread, we are seeing additional doctors and pharmacies step up to meet the demand for services and treatments that will help keep you out of the hospital, if you do contract this illness. Note that AFLD is also urging people to prepare ahead of time, since early treatment is critical and meds can take time to get.

HERE IT IS!! Compiled by America's Frontline Doctors to help you find what you need. We are pleased to report that AFLDS Telemedicine is growing in response to the massive demand from an increasingly educated public on the efficacy of safe and inexpensive therapeutics. AFLDS Telemedicine has recently added several doctors and nurses to the team and is in the process of restructuring the pharmaceutical distribution system.

It was Dr. Simone Gold's hope to make lifesaving drugs like Hydroxychloroquine available over the counter since last fall. Her request fell on deaf ears. She could not compete with the deep pockets of pharmaceutical companies that had nothing to gain from a generic drug that could combat the worst effects of this virus with early intervention.

As we see more countries like Japan and India embrace these "alternative" solutions, in lieu of the experimental offerings, more people are beginning to question the practice of medicine by government fiat. If you are reading this, you are clearly doing your own research and we salute you for that!

While we have worked hard to meet this incredible demand, we know you recognize the hurdles we have had to overcome. Many of the doctors and pharmacists in your own communities have turned their backs on you and the simple science of health outcomes, out of fear or profit. They have refused to write or fill prescriptions for decades old, commonly used medicines, some of which are over the counter in many countries.

Do not wait until you are ill to build your lifesaving arsenal. Be proactive and use all available resources from this website and others. Seek prophylactic/preventative prescriptions and over the counter protocols and continue to educate your friends and family with facts over fear. This is the path out of the tyranny they hope to usher in.
